

Bethel Recreational Pathway

Paved parking areas.

The Bethel Recreational Path is a nearly one-mile multi-use paved trail, commencing at Davis Park.

There is also a playground, skateboard park, covered picnic tables, and a public boat launch at Davis Park.

The pathway is fully handicapped accessible with parking available both at Davis Park and at the Route 2/26 end.

Walking from Davis Park through the covered bridge.

From the Davis Park end the pathway extends about .6 of a mile before crossing the Androscoggin River on a beautiful new multi-use bridge. In 2006, a third phase of the project was completed, extending the path from the multi-use bridge to a walkway under the bridge and out along the Androscoggin River connecting to the North Road. Near the Davis Park end of the pathway you will walk through an authentic scaled replica of the famous Artists' Covered Bridge over the Sunday River.
